

A COMMUNITY
without WALLS

2006 Annual Report and Winter Appeal

MISSION HELPERS
OF THE SACRED HEART

Touching Hearts and Changing Lives... A Community without Walls. These are phrases that immediately bring to mind the Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart.

We present to you our Annual Report, and Winter Appeal. Our vision is clear: "The care of our Sisters and the continued development of the mission entrusted to us by Jesus." This is a report of our stewardship of how we have supported our Sisters and forwarded our mission.

We recognize the impact of your generosity and your financial commitment on our ministries throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, and Venezuela. Because of your continued support, our Sisters see hope in the faces of youth at risk, of women and children who are victims of domestic violence, and in the lives of everyone they see in their pastoral visits. The list is long and vast. Because of you we can continue to be a Community without Walls, Touching Hearts, and Changing Lives.

LIFE

As the friends and supporters of the Mission Helpers know, our Community has always maintained a strong, active Vocations program. In addition to our newly created Formation program in Venezuela, Sister Vicki VanDenBurg has continued to spearhead our efforts in the United States through campus visits, retreats, and Internet communications via our own and national websites.

A growing number of young women today are exploring the possibility of religious life, and most are beginning their search on the Internet. A recent Time magazine article on Vocations generated 30 Internet inquiries to the Mission Helpers in just one weekend. Many more have inquired since that time.

Those interested in knowing more about religious life visit the websites of Communities and interact with Sisters who write about various aspects of religious life. Young women can complete an online profile and submit it to a national website that serves as a clearing house, matching them to religious communities that are in tune with the kind of ministry they are interested in.

“There is a growing energy in the area of Vocations,” says Sister Vicki. “Young people are wondering what they are supposed to do with their lives. And those who may already have careers may feel that there is something lacking; they're looking for something more. It's all about searching.

“If they are searching for ways to serve people,” she continues, “then Mission Helpers might be the place for them. Service has been what this Community has been about since its founding 117 years ago.”

During the latter part of 2006, three Mission Helpers embarked on new ministries in traditional areas of service in which Mission Helpers have been leaders for decades: caring for abused women and their children; family counseling; and religious education and the development of innovative teaching materials.

SISTER ONELLYS VILLEGAS joined the staff of the House of Ruth Maryland last October following ministries in Texas, Venezuela, Puerto Rico, New York, Virginia, and Washington, DC, where she first became involved with Hispanic women and children who were living lives of grief, pain, anger, and confusion caused by domestic violence. “I felt called to help ease their pain,” she says, “so I went back to school and earned a degree in Pastoral Counseling.” Today she is the Outreach Counselor for both Latina and English-speaking women who turn for help to the House of Ruth Maryland, an agency that provides legal and therapeutic services to victims and survivors of domestic violence. “I work with women in pain and in need of healing. Entering the inner world of another person’s life is an awesome privilege and responsibility,” she says. “I have been blessed by the trust these women have placed in me, and moved by the deep human feelings of heartache, brokenness, and grief. I have also rejoiced in the ordinary moments of extraordinary experiences and the sacredness of the therapeutic relationships and the gift of the Spirit within us.”

SISTER ELIZABETH (LIZ) LANGMEAD has been working part-time with the Hezekiah Movement, Inc. in Baltimore for the last nine years assisting people in recovery programs as they return to their neighborhoods and families. During that time she completed the Pastoral Counseling program at Loyola College, Baltimore, Maryland, and last summer took a second part-time job as a therapist at the Dundalk Youth Service Center, which is funded by the State of Maryland and overseen by the Department of Juvenile Justice. Created to serve young people aged three to 18, the program usually serves whole families. “When the family comes in,” Sister Liz says, “you soon realize that there is much more happening than just the child acting out in school, which is usually the first sign that there is a problem within the family. “We get into anger management, bereavement issues, ADHD problems, abusive behavior. It is always very humbling to be able to establish a trusting relationship with these children and their families,” she says. “These encounters are very touching for me. I feel that I am making a difference in the lives of people who are often struggling economically, and would not be able to afford this kind of family counseling.”

SISTER MARÍA LUZ ORTIZ is the National Consultant for Catechesis with Hispanics for Harcourt Religion Publishers, a subsidiary of Harcourt Publishing. Her ministry in the Catechetical field spans 35 years, including eight years as a Parish Outreach Coordinator and four years as a Community Project Director for Catholic Charities in Washington, DC. Sister María Luz represents Harcourt at national, regional, and diocesan conferences, making presentations on topics of interest to religious educators and keeping them informed about the resources available to them. She is a consultant to the

LUZ ORTIZ

Harcourt editorial, web-page, and marketing staffs, translating and reviewing the company's Spanish and bilingual resource materials. "I meet people from all walks of life," she says, "and I'm able to assist them in getting the resources they need to carry out their ministry of religious education. I am helping directors of religious education to discover the teaching resources available to them both in Spanish and bilingually to teach catechesis, primarily, but not exclusively, within the Hispanic community. I also help raise awareness of multiculturalism in today's Church and society. I am responding to real needs, and I believe that I am making a difference."

The Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart were founded in 1890 in Baltimore, Maryland, where Mary Frances Cunningham (pictured below)—later Mother Demetrias—taught Sunday School to black children at a time in history when the Church did not welcome them in social, educational, and religious activities.

By the turn of the century, Mission Helpers had opened an industrial school and laundry to prepare young black women for employment, opened day care centers, established a school for the deaf, and extended their ministries beyond Maryland. They were the first U.S. religious order to open a mission in Puerto Rico.

The 1930s found the Sisters preparing adults to teach religion and developing specialized teaching methods and materials called “The Adaptive Way,” establishing the Community as a leader in the field of religious education.

HISTORY

and MISSION

Today, Mission Helpers are at work throughout the United States, in Puerto Rico, and Venezuela. Their ministries include pastoral counseling in parishes, hospitals, nursing homes, senior communities, and college campuses. They teach religion at all levels, with special expertise in the field of telecommunications and online learning.

They provide spiritual direction and a wide spectrum of ministries that serve people in all walks of life—in the inner cities, in remote rural villages, college campuses, parishes and retreat centers.

YOUR GENEROSITY
SERVES THESE MISSIONS
THROUGHOUT THE
UNITED STATES, PUERTO RICO, AND VENEZUELA

We face two major financial challenges as we begin the New Year. First, like most organizations and families, Mission Helpers must meet rapidly increasing health care costs. Last year, 29 percent of our budget went to care for the retired Sisters who have given their lives in service to others. As more of our Sisters reach retirement age, these costs will certainly increase.

Our second challenge is to raise the necessary funds for our expanding ministries in the United States and Venezuela, where God continues to bless our efforts. We support our Sisters in ministries where the need is great and the compensation is not always equitable. In addition to our mission in rural Manzanita, we have established a Pastoral Center in the city of El Tocuyo. The purpose of that mission is two-fold: It will serve both as a house of Formation and as a center of counseling and healing for the families of the region. Programs are in place and an abandoned house has been donated to the Community. But the building is in need of major renovation: a new roof, electrical and plumbing systems. And, we also need to furnish the Center, which will include a small chapel. We are moving forward with hope.

SUMMARY

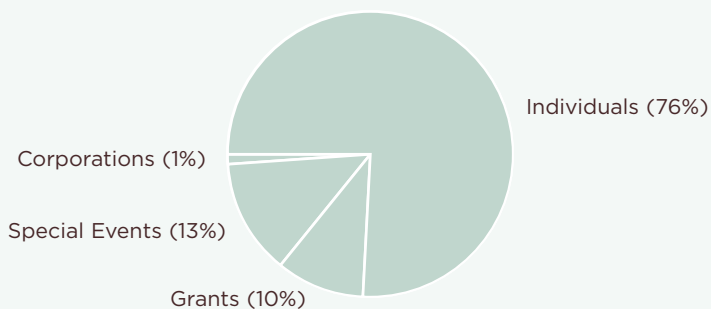

The Fiscal Year 2006 operating budget ended the year in a deficit. Contributing factors were loss of compensation from four Sisters due to parish restructuring and the fact that overall contributions to Mission Advancement fell short of our expected goal.

Recognizing the trends in giving, we have made a concerted effort to cultivate donor contributions, which resulted in an improved fourth quarter. In addition, we have made a concentrated effort through grants and foundation applications for support of our ministries and Community needs.

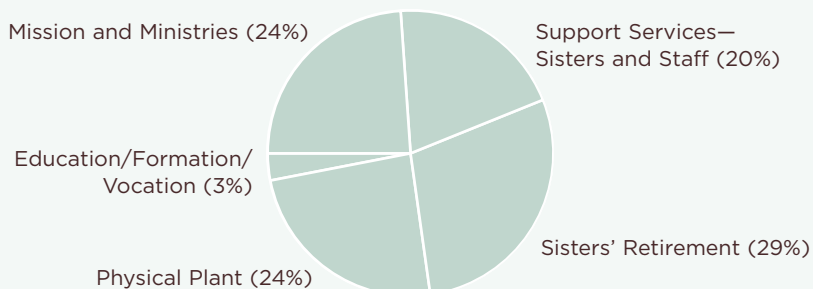

FUNDING SOURCES

FUNDS DISTRIBUTED

Donors listed have contributed gifts to Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart for Calendar Year 2006 (January 1, 2006 - December 31, 2006). Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this list. We apologize for any errors or omissions and, if any appear, we ask that you notify Sr. Natalie DeLuca in the Department of Mission Advancement (410-823-8585 ext. 245) so the corrections can be made with our Calendar Year 2007 listing.

We thank each and every one of you who have made special gifts to Mission Helpers in memory of your loved ones and in celebration of their lives.

We continue to invite our friends to consider our annual giving partnership levels and to support our strong and growing ministry in 2007 and beyond:
